

01 - The Challenge

How do you turn an unfinished skyscraper into a movement?

The Elbtower became a symbol of failure. Our challenge wasn't to market a building—it was to create a vision capable of bringing together politics, business, science, and civil society around a shared future.

